Culture change in academia: Making sharing the new norm

- I will not edit, review, or work for closed access journals.
- I will blog my work and post preprints, when possible.
- I will publish only in open access journals.
- I will not publish in Cell, Nature, or Science.
- I will pull my name off a paper if coauthors refuse to be open.

If I am going to 'make it' in science, it has to be on terms I can live with.

Raise All Ships: Cooperative Repository Strategies in a Boot-strap Culture

The Challenge:

✓Do we care about the users/ institutions not at this conference?

✓Who are you cooperating with?

✓Who are you reaching down to in order to help them up?

✓Are the decisions you're making in design and architecture going to be of use to The Lone Rangers?

..and a puppy
