

This Is OUR HOME
IT IS NOT FOR SALE

DOCUMENTING A NEIGHBORHOOD IN TRANSITION

Build Your Home

where sylvan beauty and metropolitan conveniences have been united to make ideal surroundings.

Wise Restrictions insure permanently a desirable neighborhood.

High Class Improvements assure values

We are glad to make appointments to show you

Marvin Zindler interview

Date

1985-10-25

Main contributor

Schwartz, Jon

Summary

Marvin Zindler remembers the Jack Caesar bombing. He recalls it being unusual for an event regarding black people to make the news. He views the bombing as more of a scare tactic than an attempted murder. He recalls the attitude of the general public as one of racist indifference.

Contributor

Zindler, Marvin

Genre

interviews

Subjects

Urbanization; Jack Caesar Bombing, 1953; Scare tactics; Racism

Locations

Riverside, Houston; Houston, Texas

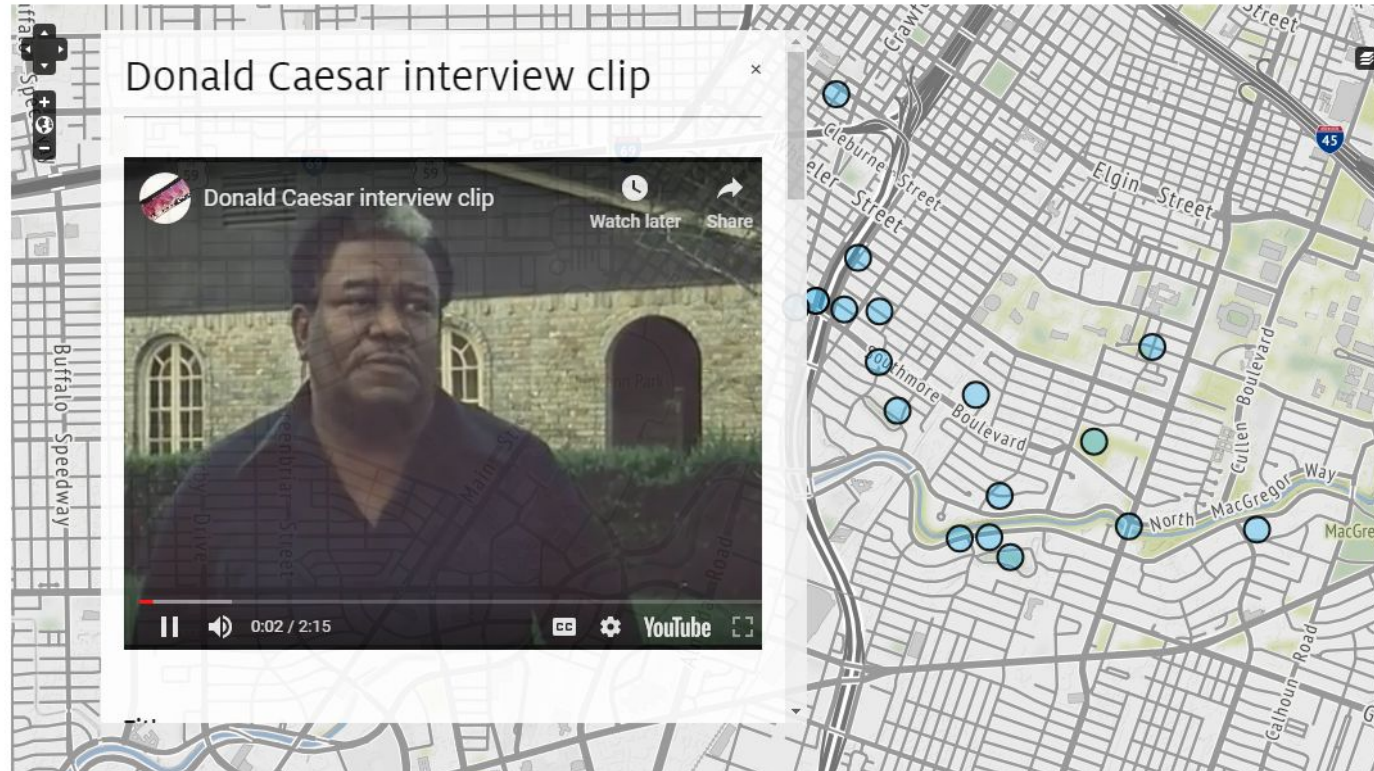

THIS IS OUR HOME, IT IS NOT FOR SALE

RIVERSIDE INTERVIEWS

ABOUT THE EXHIBIT

Riverside Interviews

Interviews:

<https://av.lib.uh.edu/>

Exhibit:

exhibits.lib.uh.edu/exhibits/show/thisisourhome

Contact:

Emily Vinson
evinson@uh.edu

Diana Dulek, Christin Zepeda, Anne Washington, Bethany Scott, and J Fisher

