How Can
Performance Research

Researchers Have Asked:
- How can my performance be cataloged and published as an academic artefact?
- As a performer, is it okay to use my performance data in academic research without my permission?
- Why is my research assessed differently than the work of others in my field?
- How can I ensure that my work is recognized as an academic artefact?
- Why do my search results show such a big difference between the works of my colleagues in other fields?
- What can I do if I am not automatically credited for my work?
