Program Goal

• A network of regional universities, research centers and institutes focused on sustainability science to meet regional needs in South Texas
• Robust research
• Education
• Public engagement
South Texas

Sustainability research will gain regional traction only if it is advanced by regional researchers.
Establish a robust and sustainable regional network of researchers in universities, centers and institutes, predominantly in South Texas:

• communicate with each other and the public
• coordinate their research efforts across disciplinary and institutional domains
• engage new researchers in the network
• train and educate students in research
Why Texas Digital Library (TDL)

Six TDL member Organizations are Involved in RCN CE³SAR
